I am a Nurturer!

I have the greatest job in the Universe

What do I do?

*"I am a Nurturer"
Just look at all the flowers yonder
Nodding and shining and smiling
Yesterday they were the seeds in my class
Came in, in all shapes and sizes
sweet , soft & Cuddly
Some bent, dusty & crinkly!*

*I tell them that the world needs them
I tell them they can do any thing
I tell them they can be the shiniest in the bower
And also rise to the top of the tower!*

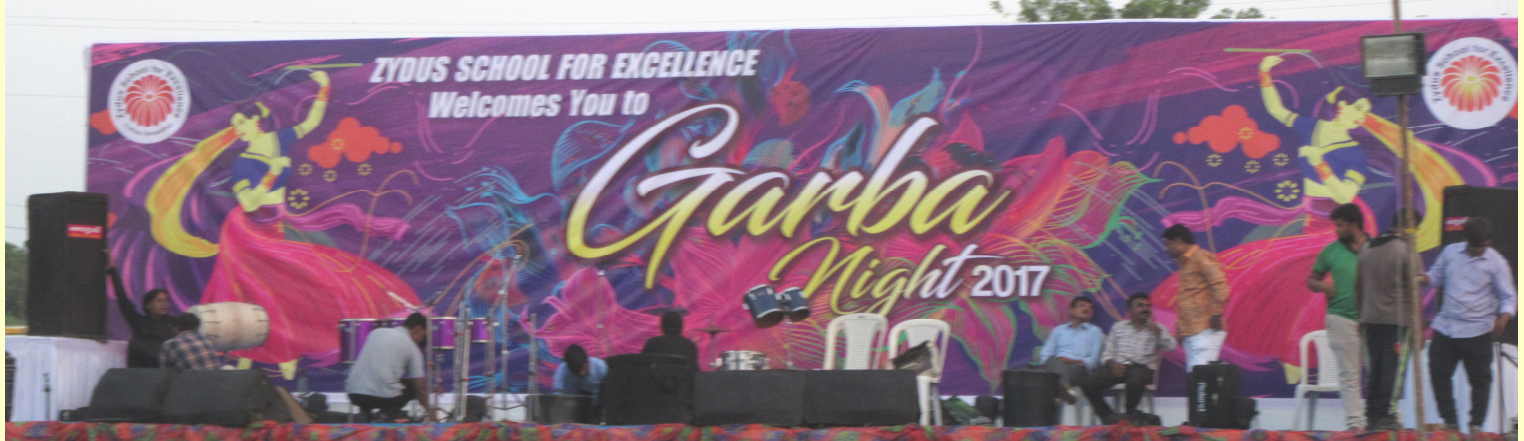

*Each morning as I look out in the garden
I am reminded of my job-
I lift my watering can
Along with my precious bottle of love*

When It Won't Be Happening...

It isn't happening here, but somewhere,
Not to us, not to our friends, but to someone out there...

Children praying for peace,
Drawing small, bright stars on the streets...
Slowly, gradually, the world's population decreasing,
Bombs and gun shots sound rapidly increasing...
Wives of martyred soldiers weeping through sorrow,
Whose husbands will never be seen from tomorrow...

Why? Just because it is not happening here,
You think it isn't happening anywhere?

People compete in the race of power,
And the people, for peace, march with candles and flowers

Do you yet see the change? Or do you see the change?

See the people screaming inside this war's cage...

Fast forward a thousand years from now,
When only a few humans are left,

Children run up to them,
Draw small, bright stars on their chests...

Finally, when the very trace of mankind ceases to progress,

The hope for nature to grow again will rejuvenate, and peace will rule afresh

Now, it isn't happening here,
It isn't happening anywhere...

A Joyful Day in My Life

What a wonderful day it was!
The end of tension and stress,
Just out of all distress.

Free from the world to fly freely in the sky,
At last, we said with a sigh.

Yes, our papers are complete.

But it is not over, we have to further compete.

More luxurious life and a nice nap,

May the exam results put a feather in our cap.

So let us be free, enjoy our lives,

Sing like a bird and just smile,

Cause it's a long journey of life with a thousand miles...

-By Gautam Bhatia (IX)

Friendship

Friendship is as sweet as a candy,
As melodious as a bird,

It's something that always needs to be preserved.

It might be gentle but the bonding is strong,

Sometimes you are right and sometimes wrong.

A jar of kindness, a mug full of respect,

A pinch of honesty, a tub full of interest.

A pot full of fun and a teaspoon of partnership.

Mix them all together and what do you get??

The best recipe in the world, FRIENDSHIP!!!

-Mehtar Singh (VII)

The Best Things in Life Are Free!

I feel, the best things in our life, though priceless, are available for free.

First of all, it's 'the parents', life is incomplete without their selfless love, blessings, their guidance & encouragement. They make us courageous, competitive, and help us imbibe virtues. Our parents are like living gods for us. They fill our life with all the possible happiness.

The second is nature; the beauty of mountains and valleys, the fresh air and the breeze we breath in and feel, the sound of the sea & river, the smell of wet Earth in monsoon, the first drop of rain, the tides on the beaches, the beauty of forests, the infinite colorful sky, sparkling stars , the fantastic full moon , canopy of trees, flower buds and their fragrances, the fog, dew drops, the waterfalls, the widespread sand dunes; thrills us, fills our lives with ecstasy and make us feel that heaven is on Earth.

The third is the love of siblings, which is very necessary. We can share every joyful and depressing moment with our siblings. I have a brother, and I know that as long as I have him, I'll always have a friend.

The next best thing is the good time we spend with friends. Friends show their love in trouble too, not only in happiness. We always enjoy the time spent with friends- going for movies, dinner, night outs are just amazing. My school also gives me opportunities to go on trips with friends. We never miss it. We all are always thankful to the school. Friends make us happy and always support us in our ups and downs. Aren't they best things which are freely available to us? Friends simply make our life better. I love all my friends and am also very thankful to them.

ALL OF THESE ARE VERY PRECIOUS, UNDERSTAND THEIR VALUE AND RESPECT.

-Manjari Shah (VIII)

SAY NO TO POLY- BAGS FOR YOUR OWN GOOD

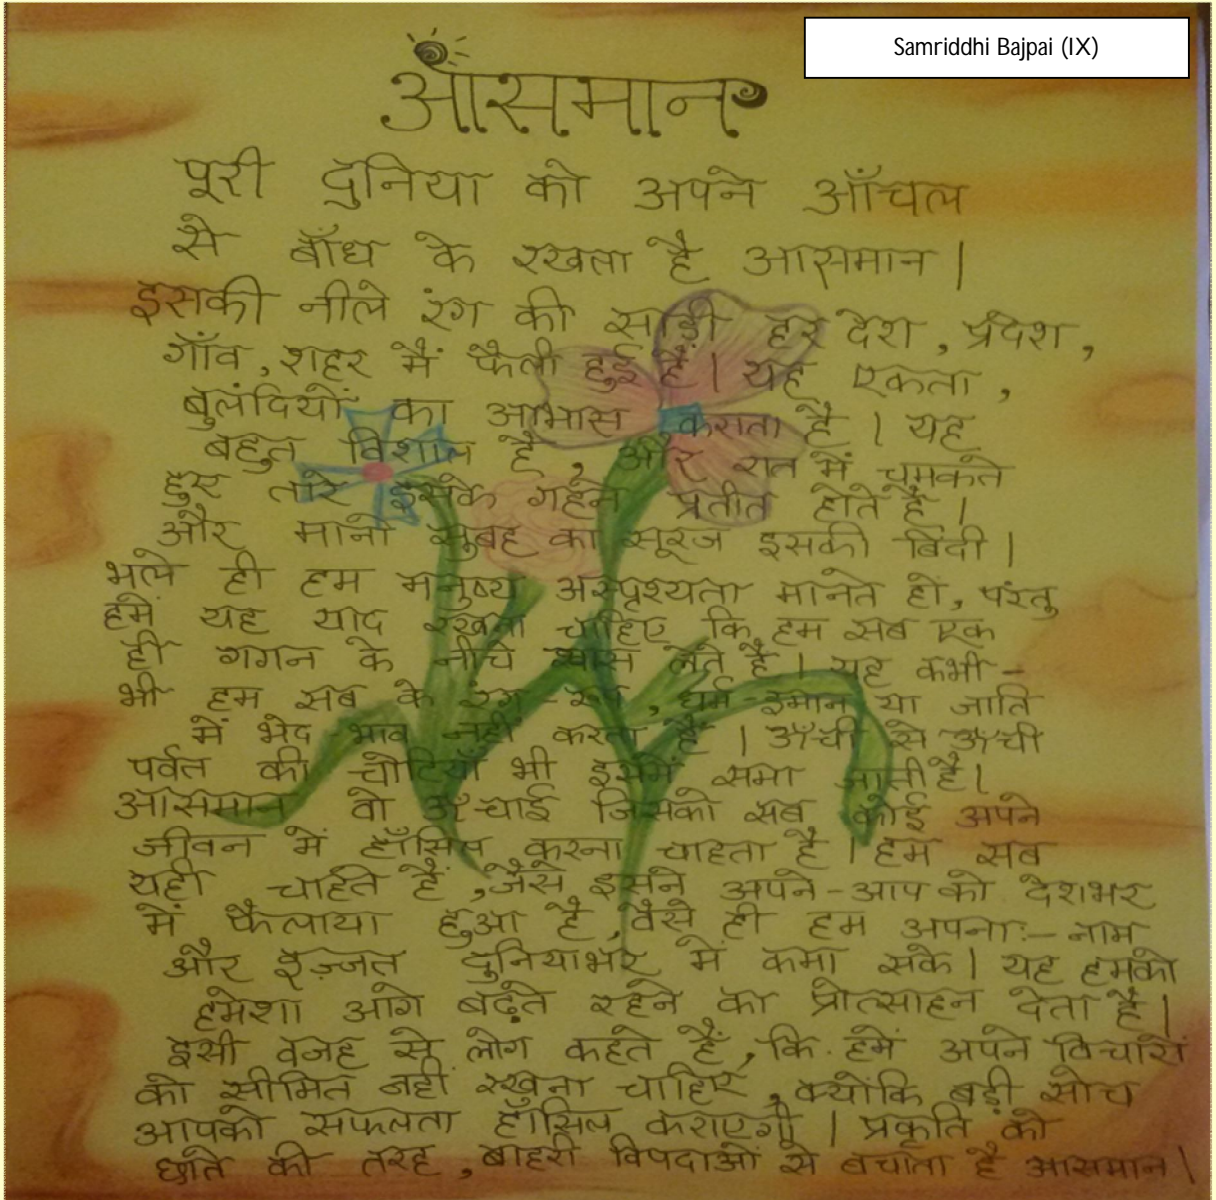

Today, I would like to draw your attention towards the impact of poly bags on our environs.

Plastic, unfortunately, has mingled with our everyday life and it is almost impossible to detach it from our lives. Plastic is durable and this durability is the cause of worry. Unlike paper, jute which are biodegradable; plastics are relatively inert materials and do not decompose naturally.

Disposal of plastics is still a huge problem. Up until now, a perfectly safe method of disposal of plastics has not yet worked out. In cities, the plastics which cannot be reused or recycled are moved into landfills. Another, and one of the most dangerous mode of plastic disposal is burning which aggravates breathing problems in asthmatics and release toxic waste products like dioxins into the atmosphere. A recent survey conducted by the Times of India shows that India consumes at least more than 25% as compared to the other developed countries. Plastics clog the drains and the marine life is affected adversely. Many animals die from intestinal blockage as a result of swallowing the poly bags.

The alternatives are several. After all we did manage before plastics came along and overwhelmed us. There are so many eco-friendly, biodegradable alternatives- recycled paper, cloth bags and jute bags. The need of hour is awareness. The public needs to be educated not only about the hazards of indiscriminate plastic use but also about the importance of cleanliness. DO AWAY WITH PLASTIC BAGS FOR YOUR OWN GOOD.

Votre amie

A poet is, before anything else, a person who is passionately in love with emotions. Bringing out these emotions and passions in our young fellow poets is a blissful journey. Uniting with these talented minds brings new colours to the canvas of our magazine. Gathering information and writing about the various events in our school re-instils in us a sense of fierce pride.

Each one of us remembers how it was like when we became one of the editors. Nothing could be seen other than wide smiles and eyes full of pride. It was and still is an honour to be a part of the editorial board. Yes, it is quite tiring; you have a lot on your plate and sometimes you can't cope. But, it wouldn't be called life if everything went on smoothly. As it is said, "To write means more than putting pretty words on a page; the act of writing is to share a part of your soul with the world."

This quote perfectly sums up our experience. The job of an editor is not an easy one. With all the editing, cutting and pasting that we do, at the end of the day, we are exhausted. But that exhaustion could never outweigh the sheer elation we feel when we are finally able to submit a complete, fully edited, amazing issue of Kaleidoscope. As we believe in the Persian proverb which says, 'verily with every hardship comes ease.'

Every small thing we do impacts people's lives in one way or another. And as avid readers, we hope that this little piece of our creation impacts your lives in many beautiful ways...

Happy Reading!
